1 NFT

NFT stands for Non-Fungible Token, a token that represents a digital asset with scarcity.

NFT is based on blockchain technology, and unlike existing virtual assets, it is characterized by the fact that it is not interchangeable because it gives a separate and unique recognition value to digital assets.

It is not only impossible to counterfeit because the first issuer can be identified at any time, but it also clarifies asset ownership, making it a powerful means of digitally tokenizing existing assets such as games, art, and real estate.

Due to the nature of blockchain, NFT technology can also be applied to IP (intellectual property) or licensing industries, including pictures, music, and videos, where authenticity and proof of ownership are important. In addition, there is an advantage in recognizing partial ownership because the token can be divided and traded in a form such as $1/n$.

By collecting the strengths of NFT, we aim to expand globally by realizing Kingdom of Bee's unique worldview and characters that everyone will like.

2 Story

However, a severe drought that this planet has never experienced has lasted in recent years, and each kingdom dispatched an exploration team to an unknown area on the other side of the planet to solve this situation.

2. If the ownership of KOB (Kingdom of Bee) NFT is lost due to sale, transfer, gift, incineration, etc., the right to use it shall terminate from the time of loss, and the work shall not be used if there is a secondary creation.

BEAR THE RISK

The user agrees and acknowledges the following items.

1. Regarding the sale of KOB (Kingdom of Bee) NFTs by users, please note that the price fluctuations of NFTs are extremely severe, and are affected both positively and negatively by price fluctuations of other NFTs.

You are responsible for all risks associated with the purchase and transaction of the Kingdom of Bee (KOB) NFT. Therefore, considering the volatility, the purchase of NFTs such as the Kingdom of Bee (KOB) NFT should not be considered an investment, and all NFTs of KOB (Kingdom of Bee) are not securities and financial investment products under the Capital Markets Act and the Financial Investment Business Act.

2. Ownership of KOB (Kingdom of Bee) means ownership of NFTs related to digital works only. Accordingly, any information presented on this website (or any documents referred to on this website) should not be considered as advice or suggestions for entering into contracts for investment purposes.

In addition, nothing on this website is considered an offer to purchase stocks, securities or other financial investment products regardless of jurisdiction.

Due to the artistic nature of this project, KOB (Kingdom of Bee) is not registered or approved by any regulatory body in any jurisdiction. Therefore, it is your sole responsibility to ensure that the KOB (Kingdom of Bee) NFTs purchased by users comply with the laws and regulations of the jurisdiction in which you reside.

3. You take all risks associated with, but not limited to, the use of Internet-based currency (including digital assets) including, but not limited to, the risks associated with hardware, software, and Internet connectivity, the risk of malicious software inflow, and unauthorized access to information stored in your wallet.

Also, due to the irreversible nature of blockchain-based transactions (impossible to restore after data transmission based on blockchain network), all ownership, sales rights, indefinite resale royalties, and rights of NFT products are vested in you as soon as they are sent.

4. NFTs, digital assets, and blockchain technology are relatively new, and their regulations are unclear. New regulations could negatively impact blockchain technology, which could negatively impact the value of your Kingdom of Bee (KOB) NFTs. YOU UNDERSTAND THIS AND ASSUME ALL RISK.

5. You assume all responsibility for adverse effects caused by interruptions or errors in the Ethereum blockchain network or Ethereum platform, or other issues affecting it.

6. All transactions of NFTs transmitted externally are performed on the Ethereum blockchain. Therefore, users are fully responsible for the security and management of their personal Ethereum wallet (private key in the wallet, etc.) and verification before approval of all transactions and transactions generated on this website. Since the operation of smart contracts is executed on the Ethereum network, transactions cannot be undone, reversed or restored.

7. Ethereum, which is paid to the buyer in exchange for the buyer's payment in KRW (KOW) for the purchase of Kingdom of Bee (KOB), is a virtual exchange unit designed only for the purchase of works within the KOB platform to help understand blockchain network-based transactions, and is not an Ethereum (ETH) of the same name.

Therefore, the quantity paid to the buyer may not reflect the transaction price of the virtual asset of the same name, and withdrawal, remittance, transmission, transfer, and cashing outside the platform other than the purchase of works within the KOB platform are not possible.
